

SUPPORTING ALL STUDENTS USING UNIVERSAL DESIGN FOR LEARNING WEBINAR SERIES 2022

QELi is delighted to partner with Dr Matt Capp, Founder and Chief Learning Officer at CAPITALISE Education, to provide a webinar series learning how to practically support all students to access the learning process by applying the Universal Design for Learning (UDL) principles during the planning, teaching, and assessment cycle.

Dr Matt Capp is the leading expert in UDL within Australia and in the Southern Hemisphere. He is the author of multiple peer-reviewed and professional journal articles on the topic. He has 20 years experiences as a classroom teacher and an educational consultant working in the area of inclusive education. He is the Chief Learning Officer at CAPITALISE Education, which supports classroom teachers, schools, and educational systems to practically implement the UDL framework through professional learning workshops, coaching, and consultancy. As a man on the autism spectrum, Matt is also interested in supporting students with ASD to overcome their barriers to the learning process.

Register Now: <https://qeli.qld.edu.au/supporting-all-students-using-universal-design-for-learning-webinar-series/>

WEBINAR SERIES STRUCTURE

Welcome & Preparation Email | week of 25 Apr 2022

During this phase participants will be emailed the webinar details and any pre-work.

Webinar Series | 3 May to 12 Jul 2022

Participants will engage in 4x 1.5 hour webinars. Webinar topics include:

1. Developing an Inclusive Curriculum | 3 May 2022, 3.30pm to 5pm QLD time

How the curriculum is interpreted and implemented can be the first barrier to the learning process. Participants will explore how they can practically break down barriers to the Australian Curriculum, by collaboratively identifying key knowledge and skills, and identifying what students actually need to demonstrate.

2. Deeply Knowing your Learners | 24 May 2022, 3.30pm to 5pm QLD time

To ensure that planning, teaching, and assessment are inclusive for all learners, educators need to deeply know their students. Participants will explore how they can practically deepen their knowledge of their students so they can create inclusive learning experiences that support all learners.

3. Deepening Knowledge of the UDL Principles | 14 Jun 2022, 3.30pm to 5pm QLD time

THE UDL framework is a proactive approach to supporting all learners to access the learning process. Participants will deepen their understanding of the UDL principles and how these can be practically applied within classrooms.

4. Developing Inclusive Lessons for all Students | 12 Jul 2022, 3.30pm to 5pm QLD time

By proactively identifying the requirements of the Australian Curriculum and the strengths and challenges of their students, teachers can identify effective UDL strategies which they embed within their lesson planning. Participants will develop an understanding of how they develop inclusive lesson plans using the UDL principles.

Certificate | week of 15 Jul 2022

If participants have attended all webinar sessions, they will be awarded their certificate of completion.

The program is suitable for all educators who work with students

ABOUT QELi

QELi is an innovative not-for-profit institute committed to delivering excellence in leadership by supporting education leaders from government and non-government sectors, across Australia and internationally, to establish a strong vision, improve student outcomes and lead change in their school context and wider school communities. We support educators at every level – from teachers to principals and system leaders – and corporate services and school support staff to develop leadership capabilities, maximise their potential and reach their leadership goals.

Registrations Close: 25 Apr 2022

$600+GST = $660.00 per person

